BETTER SUPPLY OF WATER TO GUARD SCHOOL SOUGHT

Southern Glendale Club Will Demand Protection Behalf Cerritos Institution

The regular meeting of the Southern Glendale Improvement club, which is the new name given to the combination of organizations in that section of the city, including the Glendale Gateway club and the recently-organized improvement association, was held last night in the South Brand boulevard library building, with the paramount issue under discussion being that of taking definite steps towards securing adequate water supply for the protection against fire of the two-story frame school building on Cerritos avenue.

At last week's meeting of the Glendale Gateway club, as it was then termed, a committee consisting of Mrs. Florence Blair, J. B. Griswold and Mrs. E. B. Moore, was appointed to interview the city manager in regard to having larger water mains laid to the school property.

All Settled, Is Claim

Mrs. Blair, in giving the report of the committee last night, stated that an appointment had been made with City Manager William Reeves, but that nevertheless they had not been able to obtain the interview desired. She further stated that in talking the matter over with the city engineer, he stated that it was his belief that the question of water supply in the southern part of the city had been settled satisfactorily, and that there was an eight-inch water main at San Fernando Road and Brand boulevard, which, Mrs. Blair pointed out, was two blocks from the school.

Stuart Street, president of the club, stated that on Glendale avenue there was an eight-inch main to Cypress street, from Cypress to Eulalia there was a four-inch main, and that from that point it branched into two two-inch mains, one of which supplies the school property. Either of these two-inch mains, he stated, would be pumped dry in a very short time in case of fire. He further stated that when the matter was taken up previously with the former city manager, T. W. Watson, that a definite promise had been exacted that a larger water main would be laid on Glendale avenue and would be in place before the opening of school.

After further discussion along similar lines, a motion was unanimously

Chappius, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Jansing. Mrs. Ruprecht was assisted by her daughters.

MRS. C. E. PECK SURPRISED

Mrs. C. E. Peck of 114 South Louise street was surprised yesterday by the unexpected arrival of her son, James Peck and his family, who motored up from their home in Calexico to make a short stay with her. The object of their visit is to place their infant son, James, Jr., under the care of a specialist, as his health has been a matter of concern for some weeks. Little Winifred Peck and Miss Weed, the baby's nurse, were the other members of the party.

SURPRISE PARTY IS GIVEN

Miss Emma Sebastian of 1717 Gardena avenue gave a delightful surprise party Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Marjorie Humbert of 1725 Gardena avenue, who has recently returned home from an extended trip to Topeka, Kan. The guests included Miss Humbert, Thelma Howe, Bernice Canaday, Lela Bush and Charline Sebastian; Donald LaForce, Leslie Tarr, Gordon Stewart, Ray Sebastain, Charles Flanders and Albert Kennedy.

NEW SUNFLOWER RECORD

Mrs. Edith Crooker of 407 Burchett street protests that the biggest sunflower in Glendale is growing in her yard. The stalk is not as tall as that of Mrs. Joe Griffin's sunflower, but the diameter of the flower is seventeen inches, she says.

MRS. M. B. YORK HOSTESS

Mrs. M. B. York entertained with a three-course dinner Thursday evening at the Glendale apartments, her guests being Mrs. M. E. Green of Chicago, Miss Lillian Cook of Oshkosh, Wis., and Miss Georgina Bland from England.

Invests 30 Cents and Soon Receives Check for $22.50

Ray L. Galvin, salesman for the Buick agency, resides at 1344 North Columbus avenue. He had a flock of chickens to sell and he invested 30 cents in a classified advertisement yesterday. By 4 o'clock in the afternoon D. P. McIver had read the advertisement, motored to the foothill home with a check for $22.50, sacks in which to carry away the chickens and a copy of The Glendale Evening News clutched in his hand.

He had fresh eggs for breakfast while the two parties who had phoned about the hens soon after the deal was made will have to get along with the "store bought" variety until someone else offers such a bargain through the classified columns of this paper.

Charles Culver, president of the county union, attended the meeting to present the "Four Square" contest plan which will probably be adopted by the societies of the district. This plan was evolved during the world C. E. convention at New York city and emphasizes greater Christian endeavor, loyalty to the church, religion in the home and personal stewardship of time, strength, money and ability.

At the close of the business meeting Miss Peters, assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. E. Peters, served light refreshments. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Culver of Los Angeles, Luther Mills, and Will Richards of Los Angeles; Lowell Donnell, Woodbridge Johnson and Cyrus Galley of Eagle Rock; Miss Frances Musser, Miss Tirzah Snell, Miss Carol Duncan and Mr. and Mrs. C. NEW SAFE DEPOSIT VAULT AT FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Change In Both Equipment and Location; Inspection by Public Is Invited

In order to better accommodate its ever increasing business, the First National bank is today moving its safe deposit box and escrow departments from its present location, corner of Broadway and Brand, to the new banking room which it has recently equipped at 104 East Broadway, two doors east of its present quarters, where these two departments will be ready for business tomorrow morning.

A new safe deposit vault has been constructed with steel reinforcement consisting of one-inch steel rods set six inches apart, up and down, and one-half inch steel rods, six inches apart, horizontally. The top and bottom of the vault are of eighteen-inch concrete construction with a similar reinforcement.

Burglar Alarm System

The door is a six-inch steel door, equipped with triple time lock and weighs eleven tons. The vault is also equipped with an electrically operated burglar alarm system.

The vault alone was constructed at a cost of about $8,500, while about $10,000 was added in equipment, making a total cost of $18,500.

The additional space which these new quarters will provide both in the vault and in the lobby will enable the bank to care most efficiently for its safe deposit and escrow business.

Invite Public Inspection

The completion of these improvements gives this institution one of the most modernly equipped safe deposit departments in Southern California and is a credit to the progressive spirit of Glendale and of the First National bank.

Officers of the bank announce that the new vault will be open for inspection and that they will be glad to show the public about their new quarters.

C. C. Cooper is president of the First National bank; M. P. Harrison, vice president; Ed M. Lee, vice president; R. F. Kitterman, cashier; E. E. Osgood and William A. Goss, assistant cashiers. W. W. Lee is chairman of the board, while the other directors are C. C. Cooper, M. P. Harrison, W. W. Lee, George T. Paine and R. F. Kitterman.

ELKS' CLUB FILLED UP

Willis M. Kimball, secretary of the Glendale lodge of Elks, reports that the entire furnishings for the twelve rooms, which have recently been added to the club building, have been installed and that they are all being occupied by lodge members. The building now has three complete stories with a total of twenty-two rooms in addition to the offices, social quarters, bowling alleys, etc., in the basement and first floor.

UNABLE TO FIND HOME

Mrs. Dollie Randall of Taft, who has been visiting Mrs. H. Fosberg of 117 East Lomita avenue, returned to her home Wednesday after a fruitless search for a desirable house in Glendale. She will return later in the fall and make another attempt to find a home for her family in this city. The trouble with the situation in Glendale, according to Mrs. Randall, is that everyone wants to buy homes, but few want to sell.

SCHUYLERS VISIT HERE

Mr. ad Mrs. Herman Schuyler of Los Angeles were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Bennett of 946 North Louise street. The two families have been acquainted many years, Mrs. Schuyler and Mr. Bennett having been childhood friends in Warrensburg, New York. Mr. Schuyler has been superintendent at the Pacific Electric switch yards in Los Angeles for the past twenty-four years.

LEAVE FOR LONG BEACH

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Kelsey and son, Alwyn, who have been residing at 430 Burchett street, left Glendale yesterday for Long Beach, where they will reside temporarily and later they will occupy their own home in Southgate Gardens. It is the family's intention, however, to eventually return to Glendale which they consider the most ideal home place in the country.

Miss Carrie A. Noble of Pasadena, who is principal of the Glendale Intermediate school, was in this city Thursday and Friday receiving registrations for the seventh and eighth grades. She was assisted by Miss Clara Midcalf, vice-principal.

Southern Pacific Is Not Responsible for Accident, Is Verdict

According to the findings announced yesterday, of a Southern Pacific board of inquiry sitting in Los Angeles to determine responsibility for the accident on September 1, at the intersection of Brand boulevard, Glendale, and the railroad company's tracks, in which Ray I. Underwood, truck driver of San Fernando, was injured when a Southern Pacific train struck his vehicle, no blame attached to the train crew for the accident.

The board found proper warning signals were given. W. F. Lemon, assistant railroad inspector for the State Railroad commission, attended the hearing.

COUNCIL PROPOSES BOND ELECTIONS TO GET FUNDS

Money for Street Work and for Garage Unit May Be Asked From Voters

Two municipal bond elections were proposed at the meeting of the City Council last night with the result that City Manager William Reeves was instructed to secure facts and figures for the council on which to instruct the city attorney to prepare the necessary legal proceedings.

The first bond issue proposed was that to provide a revolving fund of about $30,000 to care for street repairs and other improvements.

The second bond issue suggested was that to purchase land to the rear of the city hall and erect the first unit of a garage system to care for the city's automobiles and other property.

Both of Importance

Councilman C. E. Kimlin proposed the first bond issue and Councilman S. A. Davis made the suggestion relative to the second.

City Manager Reeves declared that both propositions were of vital importance and should be submitted to the voters of Glendale at the earliest possible moment.

"The streets are in need of repairs and we haven't the money to proceed," he pointed out. "If a revolving fund could be provided by a bond issue, our problem would be solved."

Councilman Davis called attention to the fact that much city property is being exposed to the elements as the result of the fact there is no proper covering provided and he urged that a bond issue be submitted to the voters.

Says Amount Too High

He said that, in his opinion, the last bond issue for municipal garages was voted down because the amount set was too high. He declared he was of the opinion $10,000 would be enough to start the first unit of garages and that the lots in the rear of the city hall could be purchased on the installment plan.

It was finally decided to instruct the city manager to secure facts and figures on both propositions for submission to the council at the next meeting, if possible.

According to the statements made last night, it is not probable the bond election, if one is held, will take place on the same day as the one proposed by the city school board, which seeks the sum of $260,000.

MISS VIOLA BROWNE AND L. C. JOHNSON TO WED SUNDAY

Marriage Ceremony Will Take Place In Congregational Church, Los Angeles

Mrs. Alice Browne of 102A East Broadway announces the coming wedding of her daughter, Miss Viola Browne, to L. C. Johnson of Los Angeles. The engagement has been known to their many friends for several months, although no definite date for the ceremony, which will take place next Sunday, had been made public. The service will be held at the First Congregational church of Los Angeles, where Mr. Johnson is a member.

The bride-to-be has lived in this city for the past four years, the last two of which she has been in the employ of the local telephone office. During that time she has become acquainted with a large number of Glendale young people, who are all joining in extending their felicitations to the prospective newlyweds.

Reception to Follow

Mr. Johnson is also known among Glendale's younger social set, having attended numerous entertainments and social functions in this city during the last few years.

The marriage comes as a culmination of a romance of several years' duration.

Following the wedding Sunday the couple will entertain a group of their more intimate friends and relatives at the home of the bride's mother, where they will reside until a permanent home is selected.

Glendale's Growth Causing Amazement Through Southland

An interesting estimate of Glendale's remarkable growth as compared with that of other Southern California cities was made by County Assessor Ed W. Hopkins at a recent visit to Building Inspector Frank A. Marek's office. During the first seven months of this year Mr. Hopkins stated that 217 building permits were issued in the city of Pomona, which is practically the same size as Glendale.

He then found that in August alone 254 permits were issued in this city.

"Such growth for a city the size of Glendale is unparalleled in the history of Southern California," remarked the assessor as he looked again at the figures.

A total of 1422 building permits have been issued to date this year, according to Mr. Marek, approximately 1200 of these being for the erection of homes.

Wells, the woman's husband. Witnesses said the man boarded the car quietly, shouldered through the crowd and then began shooting. Mrs. Wells and Altmeyer were seated near the front of the car. Two bullets struck the woman. She died just as she was carried into the hospital. One bullet entered Altmeyer's head. He also died at the hospital. The assailant, revolver in hand, jumped from the moving car and started to run. Five passengers pursued him and caught him before he had run 100 feet. He fought desperately, but was overpowered and taken to the police station.

COUNCILMEN WILL GET ON INSIDE AND LOOK OUT

If City Officials Once Get In, They May Stay There, Say Some Funny Persons

The members of the City Council of Glendale are going to the state penitentiary at Folsom!

Remain calm!

The councilmen are going to prison to make an investigation, not as the state's charges.

Although, as Councilman Dwight W. Stephenson expressed it at the meeting of the council last night, "perhaps some citizens will wish that we be kept at the penitentiary."

"Maybe the warden, when he looks over this bunch, will throw us in cells," commented Mayor Spencer Robinson.

Why are the councilmen going to the penitentiary?

To be sure!

They are going there to investigate a sewage disposal system.

"We are going to nose about a bit," was the way Mayor Robinson expressed it.

How It All Started

The desire to enter prison was started by Councilman C. E. Kimlin. He called attention to the fact that the city is proposing to spend about $10,000 for a sewage disposal plant for the Verdugo Woodlands district.

"That's a lot of money," he commented, "and, frankly, I am not willing to vote for a certain disposal system until I have made a thorough investigation. I have been discussing the matter with persons familiar with health and sanitation matters and I am informed that the plant in use at the state penitentiary at Folsom would give us a good idea of a system such as we contemplate installing. I suggest, therefore, that the entire council make the trip to Folsom and investigate before spending the $10,000."

Councilman S. A. Davis expressed himself as being heartily in favor of going to the penitentiary—to investigate the sewage disposal system, of course. So, when Councilman Kimlin made a motion that the council take the trip to prison, he seconded it.

One of Them Objects

And then came a determined "No!" from Councilman Stephenson when the roll call was taken. It was evident he objected to going to prison, even as proposed by the other councilmen.

However, the motion prevailed. Then the thought came that perhaps City Manager William Reeves would like to spend a day or so in the penitentiary. So he was invited, by a formal motion, and this time Councilman Stephenson voted "Yes!" just as determinedly as he had registered the negative before.

"If we are to spend the money for the trip, it is just as well that the city manager be among those present," he commented

Now comes the sob stuff.

Councilman A. H. Lapham was not present at last night's meeting. He is out of the city on his vacation. It follows, then, that he knows nothing of his "sentence" to the penitentiary. He will get the sad news upon his return.

Meanwhile, does anyone know of a sewage disposal system closer to Glendale than the state penitentiary? The council wants to know. This is no time to get behind bars, is the comment at the city hall.

PLAN MINE WAR PROBE

ROSICLARE, Ill., Sept. 9.—State officials, including Adjutant General Frank S. Dickson, were expected here late today to make a thorough investigation into the mine war conditions in Hardin county. The planned attack on Rosiclare and Elizabethtown of 800 miners who were massed about fifteen miles from here, had not started today. The miners were reported disbanding and returning to their homes. The vigilance of the guard was kept up at both places, however. Sheriff Cox, in charge of deputies and guards, said he did not believe the miners would attack and he had reports the men had retreated toward Equality. Cox requested the state authorities to send 100 rifles to be used by his guards in repelling any advance of the miners.

Local authorities believed Adjutant-General Dickson would be able to settle the difficulties without calling out state troops.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—Andrew Furuseth, internationally known leader of the Seamen's union, will expose alleged efforts to "sovietize" the American merchant marine, at a mass meeting of the Seamen's union here tonight, it was announced today.

NOTED SCULPTOR IS CARVING FIGURES ON NEW CHURCH

Italian Artist Is Secured to Complete Designs of Art Upon Catholic Edifice

Joseph Conradi, a well-known church sculptor, arrived in Glendale this week from Salt Lake City to put the finishing touches on the imposing entrance of the new Catholic church building.

Mr. Conradi was born in Italy and received nearly all his training in Rome, where he studied in a school of ecclesiastical art, specializing in church sculpture. He has carved the figures on many of the most beautiful churches in the United States, among them Holy Trinity church and St. Liborius church in St. Louis and the Church of the Redemptoris in Chicago.

Mr. Conradi is carrying out the design chosen by Albert C. Martin, the architect, and is changing a great block of sandstone over the entrance into a beautiful conception of the head of Christ, crowned with thorns. Just below the head is the inscription, "consumatum est," or "It is finished." The arch of sandstone forming the entrance will be further engraved with innumerable little cherub heads and other designs chosen to add to the beauty of the entrance without taking from it any of its splendid simplicity.

Sandstone From Idaho

The sandstone used for the carving and for the front and cornices of the beautiful building is shipped from Boise, Idaho, and, according to Mr. Conradi, it is the most substantial stone for ornamental purposes to be had in America. It will withstand the ravages of the elements better than most of the stones used for building purposes, he says:

"The reason why this church is so beautiful," said Mr. Conradi, "is because it is so very simple in design. It is the mission style, they say, copied from the old California missions. I am very pleased to have a part in the work of finishing this building for I can see that it is going to be a church at which one can look with pride and say 'I did my share in its construction.'"

The new church has been the dream of Rev. Father James O'Neill for years and now he is witnessing his dream come true. It is probable that the dedication will take place next month.

Usilton, a resident of Glendale for many years, who on March 1, 1920, left his position as proofreader on a Los Angeles newspaper to become general manager of a local publication, is now in the real estate business at 1004 South Brand. He has given up the newspaper business, it is reported, and is associated with Mr. and Ms. O. C. Tompkins. The firm name will be the General Realty company.

Bellona—Goddess of war, who prepared the chariot of Mars and appeared in battle armed with a whip and holding a torch.

Callisto—A nymph of Arcadia, who was changed into a bear and placed in the heavens as a constellation.

Erytheia—One of the goddesses of Night appointed to guard the golden apples in the gardens of the Hesperides.

Fates—Three sisters, daughters of Night, whom Jupiter permitted to decide the fortune and particularly the duration of human life. Clotho attached the thread, Lachesis spun it and Atropes cut it off when the end of life arrived.

Gerda—So beautiful that the brightness of her naked arms illuminated both the sea and air.

Hebe—Goddess of youth and cupbearer to all the gods.

Lofua—The Scandinavian goddess who reconciles lovers.

SALT AND DAMPNESS

Salt is what is called "hygroscopic," that is, it eagerly absorbs moisture. In fact, both air and salt are absorbents of moisture and it is a contest between them as to which gets it. Results depend on atmospheric conditions. Ordinary atmosphere always contains a proportion of moisture, and warm air is apt to be more humid than cold, as it absorbs and holds water vapor more readily than cold air. Salt has such affinity for moisture that under such conditions it draws it from the air. When the air becomes dry, the moisture is given up by the salt, which in turn becomes dry as it returns the moisture to the air.

LOCAL LODGE FOLK WILL BE PRESENT AT DEDICATION

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs to Attend Ceremonies Held Behalf Orphan's Home

A number of members of the Glendale lodges of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are making plans to attend the dedication services of the new I. O. O. F. Orphans' Home, which will take place at Gilroy, at 2 p. m. Sunday, October 9.

Both of the local organizations are in receipt of communications from Edna M. Cyens, grand secretary of the California Rebekah Assembly, inviting them and urging their attendance at the affair, which will be one of the most interesting and impressive services in the history of the I. O. O. F. in California. She writes:

"Our dreams of many years have at last been realized in the completion of the new fire-proof Orphans' Home at Gilroy, and it is probable that one of the largest crowds of Rebekahs and Odd Fellows ever assembled in the state for a similar service will be present on the afternoon of October 9."

Glendale Man Chosen

The various Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges throughout southern California are already booking their delegations to the dedication, which will take place just two days prior to the opening of the annual Grand Encampment at Santa Cruz.

Practically all of the delegates to the big convention will also attend the Gilroy ceremony. J. W. Dutton of 113 West Los Feliz Road, this city, has been chosen as one of the members of the Glendale delegation.

The officers and members of the Glendale "three linkers" are making preparations for a big meeting to take place the latter part of September in which a comparatively large class of candidates will receive the initiatory degree of Odd Fellowship. A delegation of members from the Los Angeles lodge will be present to take part in the ceremony.

Italy Would Save Turkey In Europe, Is Opinion of Official

ROME—England and Italy must unite to preserve the integrity of Turkey and to resurrect Ottoman nationality.

This opinion was expressed in an interview by Senator Artom, president of the Italian colonial institute, and an expert in foreign politics, which he studied at the foreign office before he became first a deputy and then a senator.

"The terms of a particular agreement between England and Italy for the near east could not be discussed by the press before its conclusion," said Artom, "because not even the most modest commercial convention could be concluded, if its terms were discussed beforehand.

All that can be said is that a return to the principle of the integrity of the Ottoman empire, which for long formed an important part of European public law, would seem advisable, and should form the base of an agreement with Italy.

Has Aroused Rancour

Certainly, the conduct of Turkey during the war has aroused legitimate rancour in European public opinion; certainly, the passage of the Straits can no longer remain the monopoly of Turkey, nor of any other power. But, with this reservation, rancour cannot be the base of a wise policy; Europe will help herself and the great cause of human liberty by assisting the resurrection of the Ottoman nationality, on condition that it gives all the necessary guarantees for the protection of the rights of the other Oriental races and of legitimate European interests.

"The strengthening of the agreement already existing between the governments of London, Paris and Rome, and the conclusion also of special arrangements for the most urgent questions, such as that of the near east, constitutes a real and vital necessity for Europe."

"The agreement before all else should be based upon the interest and the need of unity between the three great powers for the defense of the system of order against the prevalence of the revolutionary or bolshevist tendencies which have for some time threatened Europe."

FEW INSECTS HARMFUL TO MAN

Relatively speaking, very few species of insects are harmful in any way to man and his works. The injurious species amount to less than 1 per cent of the whole. On the other hand, a great many species are beneficial to mankind. Pollination of crops like clover would be impossible without insect visitations, and the same is true of many garden flowers and important fruits.

A plant, known as devil's bur, is causing trouble to motorists of California and Arizona. The plant produces spiny seeds which puncture the tires and are then carried on and planted many miles from the parent vine. It is a native of southern Europe and is thought to have been introduced through burs in the fleece of sheep imported to this country.

You'll never convince a man that there's perfect peace in heaven if his wife's relatives are candidates for a pair of wings.

Prohibition Raid Is Followed by Suicide of One of Raiders

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—A spectacular raid by prohibition officers on the steamship King Alexander was climaxed today by the suicide of one of the raiders.

After taking part in the gun battle in which seven members of the steamer's crew were wounded and liquor and drugs were seized, Frank J. Fitzpatrick shot himself in the washroom of a ferry house, according to police.

Other prohibition agents were standing with Fitzpatrick who came here from Bridgeport, Conn., according to police. Investigation to learn the reason for his suicide was started immediately.

Eight men were arrested, charged with violation of the Volstead Act. Additional charges and other arrests may be expected later.

Officers said cocaine valued at $75,000 and liquor worth about $15,000 were seized.

The raid on the King Alexander was in connection with the new campaign launched here against bootleggers.

Score of Shots Exchanged

Acting on a tip that members of the crew of the King Alexander were involved in a plot to smuggle contraband liquor and drugs into this country, the prohibition agents swooped down on the ship at her wharf.

Sailors resisted and a score of shots were exchanged.

Fifteen prohibition agents comprised the force that raided the King Alexander.

They approached the ship in a launch and lay in the shadows of the wharves while agents, posing as prospective purchasers of the contraband went aboard the vessel.

While they were negotiating on the ship a lookout spied the launch crowded with officers. He gave the alarm. A moment later those in the launch heard a rattle of shots from the vessel.

They leaped from the launch to the pier and rushed the gangplank.

RECIPES FOR SUCCESS

"What's the secret of success?" asked the sphinx.

"Always keep cool," said the ice.

"Take pains," said the window.

"Be up to date," said the calendar.

"Don't be a knocker," said the hammer.

"Don't be shocked," said the battery.

"Make light of everything," said the lamp.

"Look out for the time," said the clock.

"Talk some more," said the telephone.

"Never lose your head," said the barrel.

"Don't monkey around," said the monkey wrench.

"Find a good thing and stick to it," said the glue.

WHAT IS FAITH?

A spiritual perception.—South.

The watchword of all popular movements.—Renan.

Our largest manufacturer of good works.—Augustine Birrell.

The first of the seven virgins by which the church is supported.—Hermas.

TWO STRONG BOOKS ARE RELEASED AT LOCAL LIBRARY

Harold Bell Wright's Newest Book Excellent; Romance by Gene S. Porter

Several boxes of books have arrived at the Glendale public library during the past week, but owing to the summer "housecleaning" at the library and different changes that are being made in the filing system few of the new books will be on the shelves before next week.

Two new stories that are just off the press include Harold Bell Wright's new novel, "Helen of the Old House" and Gene Stratton Porter's romance, "Her Father's Daughter."

"Helen of the Old House" is a stirring tale of American life today. The scene of the story is not localized, but brings in mind almost any manufacturing town or community. The chief character, "Helen of the Old House," represents the finest type of American womanhood. The daughter of a laborer starting life in a small house at the bottom of the hill is swept by the wheels of fortune to a mansion at the top of the hill. Harold Bell Wright's splendid ideals in the characters of men and women stand out in this book vividly.

Story Of California

"Her Father's Daughter," by Gene Stratton Porter is a story of California. "Transfer 'A Girl of the Limberlost' to the richer state of California," says one critic. "In that luxuriant field you have this new story. It is considered by some better than the 'Girl of the Limberlost.'"

Three volumes comprising "The Best Short Stories of 1915, 1916 and 1917" or the "Year Books of the American Short Story," issued by Edward J. O'Brien are books that will be welcomed by people of a literary turn of mind. They are books particularly desired by writers and other students of the art of the short story who wish to use Mr. O'Brien's collections. They show the problem that the author sees for himself in each instance and whether he has failed or succeeded in his attempt.

From every point of view, from that of the actual possibilities of worth and enjoyment to be derived from them by all sorts of readers; from that of the vivid and varied, but always valid conformment with life that they bring; from that of character portrayal and the trend of American thought, these books warrant an emphatic and unconditional recommendation.

Two Courses of Study

The public library is able to offer the people of this city two splendid courses of study for the coming winter. The "Roth Memory Course" is a simple and scientific method of improving the memory and increasing mental ability. It includes seven lessons, each one a small book couched in simple words teaching how to gain a good memory and how to train a good memory. The lessons include mental filina; names and faces; how to use the a b c memory code; remembering numbers; memory aids for study; practical application of the course.

The other new course of study is "How to Master the New Science of Personal Efficiency," by Edward Earl Purinton. What is your greatest ambition and how to realize it? This is the chief theme of this highly interesting series of lectures. Do you throw away $5 every morning? and how do you figure lost time? are some of the interesting questions asked and answered.

It would be of great benefit to any one interested in business efficiency to make a careful study of these two courses. They at least bear inspection.

Roy Gardner Still at Large; Officials Expect Gun Battle

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 9. — The hunt for Roy Gardner, California mail robber, who escaped from the federal prison on McNeil's Island Monday afternoon, became still more baffling today.

Though Warden Maloney and the prison guards still declare that Gardner is on the island and cannot get away, that he will be forced by hunger and exposure to surrender, that opinion is not held by Tacoma officers.

"Gardner is right on the island and he cannot get away," declared F. J. McMurray, Northern Pacific railway operative, who joined the manhunt late yesterday.

"He will kill somebody this time, or try to, if he has a gun. It's a safe bet that he has a gun, because he could have taken one from a house on the island. Gardner has everything to lose this time and he will certainly put up a fight."

On the heels of this statement came the declaration of a former McNeil's Island convict, a licensed physician, graduate of an old southern university, who knew Gardner in prison and who was released only three days before Gardner's escape.

The former convict pal of Gardner walked into the office of a local newspaper and told his story.

Hungry for Publicity

"Gardner isn't on that island," he said. "He had plenty of time to get away. Gardner will be turned up all right, but it won't be by prison guards. He will pull something to get his name in the papers, for he's hungry for publicity. That will prove his undoing.

"Gardner was a pleasant fellow in prison and a good friend of the guards. They were all afraid of him, however, because they knew he was the cleverest man they had ever handled. He had it on them a mile."

Detective McMurray declared that Gardner is a genius, but asserts that the bandit always uses the same methods in escaping. He insists that Gardner has not left the island, but predicts he will make a break either tonight or tomorrow night.

The prison authorities say that the loot stolen by Gardner in one of his mail robberies has never been recovered. They believe it is Gardner's intention now to attempt to recover it.

According to McMurray, Gardner escaped from a prison at Hermosillo, Mexico, in 1900, and lived for ten days on berries and stolen chickens. The searchers failed to find him. Later he made good his escape from the country.

Three launches manned by heavily armed guards patrolled the channel between the island and the mainland all last night.

Footprints Are Found

Footprints found on the west shore of the island may or may not have been made by Gardner. They were the imprints of a number eight shoe, but several of the guards and some of the newspaper men have shoes of that size and they may have left the marks which the guards thought yesterday were made by the escaped bandit.

Officers who believe Gardner has fled from the island pointed out that though at least two residents of the island have seen a dark form prowling around at night, no one has ever seen Gardner at close quarters since his escape.

Hatfield Leaves Hills for His Shanty Boat

SISTERSVILLE, W. Va.—George Washington Hatfield, brother of "Devil Anse" Hatfield, of feud-day fame, has become a shanty boater.

Hatfield and his wife, a full-blooded Indian, came here recently from Pike county, Kentucky, and have begun life in a shanty boat on the Ohio side of the river. The trip to Sistersville was made overland in a quaint delapidated buggy, drawn by a very weary horse.

The aged clansman believes he was the father of Sid Hatfield, Mingo county chieftain, who was slain in a revolver fight at Welch last month.

"The Sid Hatfield who was killed at Welch may be and may not be my boy," the grizzled mountaineer said. 'Me and Anse both had boys of that name, and I ain't seen Sid in a number of years—not since he helped me out of a tight fix in Carter county, Kentucky.

"I'm a law abidin' citizen, religious, and don't aim to make any fuss, but whenever one of our blood is murdered, the murderer must pay."

Hatfield, who is past 76 years old, looked much younger. He was dressed in typical hilly-billy fashion, with the exception of a "six gun."

He said he was living for two things—his rifle, which is over 100 years old, and his violin, which he claims was made in 1314. He is still a crack shot with his old-fashioned weapon.

ATTACK DOUBLE STANDARD

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—An attack on another outpost of the double standard was launched by women government employes today. Miss Gertrude McNally, a vice president in the National Federation of Federal Employes, announced that she will ask the federation at its convention in New Orleans September 12 to adopt resolutions protestiing against a double standard of wages. Miss McNally's resolution states: "The average salary of women employes is $200 less than the men's. Under war conditions when more women were employed, only 5 per cent of the women were paid more than $1300 while 46 per cent of the male employes received more. Many bureaus have a virtual deadline for women in respect to salaries."

LOUIS LE MESNAGER, FRENCH WAR HERO, JOINS C. OF C.

Pays Taxes on 1300 Acres of Land Within City; Pledges Complete Co-operation

Louis le Mesnager, one of the most widely known residents of Glendale who lives in the foothills of Verdugo Woodlands, was interviewed yesterday by E. F. Sanders, assistant secretary, and Henry Purinton, student secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. He paid them one year's membership in the organization and pledged his co-operation in making a greater Glendale.

Mr. le Mesnager, who is a veteran of two wars, fighting with the forces of his native land, France, showed Mr. Sanders his vast vineyards and stated that he now pays taxes on 1300 acres of land lying within the corporate limits of this city.

Grape Harvest Under Way

This is but a small part of his large holdings in southern California, it is understood.

The grape harvest is now under way and the visitors at the le Mesnager home were presented with some of the most wonderfully flavored fruit of the vine that Mr. Sanders has ever tasted. It is raised without water, an unusual feat in this country.

In connection with the membership drive for the Chamber, the captains are reporting excellent success and a score more have been added to the roll.

Big Dinner Postponed

The big dinner with the board of directors which was scheduled next Tuesday night for the new members and those who secured their applications has been postponed until September 30, it was announced by Secretary James M. Rhoades today.

This will give everyone an opportunity to get a new member of the Chamber of Commerce, thereby making it the strongest organization in any city of Glendale's size in the world, it is believed.

BENEFIT FOR MATHEWSON

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—New York and Boston will play a testimonial game for Christy Mathewson on the Polo Grounds September 30, when the Giants play their last home game of the season. Manager McGraw is trying to arrange a feature game of five innings between the present Giants and the former Giants who played with "Matty," including Donlin, Devlin, Dahlen, Rusie, Gilbert, Bowerman and Bresnahan. The Giants' share of the receipts will be given to Mathewson, who is ill with tuberculosis at Saranac Lake.

FINAL OPPORTUNITY TO SEE 'I DO' AT GLENDALE

"Just Pals" With Buck Jones in Star Role Makes Great Bill for Tonight

The final opportunity to see "I Do," Harold Lloyd's great comedy which has been rocking the roof of the Glendale theatre will be at tonight's performances.

Following his great success in "Just Pals," in which he received universal praise throughout the country, Buck Jones once more steps out of his character as cowboy to enact a role of a more serious nature in his latest William Fox production entitled "The Big Punch," which is the feature today.

"The Big .Punch" is an original story by Jules G. Furthman, and is described as an intensely appealing tale of the western hills. The story revolves around a young man who is arrested for sheep rustling in which he had no part, is convicted and sent to prison for a term of five years. Following his release from prison, his efforts to "make good" furnish many thrilling incidents.

A Pathe Review, Aesop's Fables Modernized and music by Madam Clement complete the pleasing program.

REPLY BEING CONSIDERED

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Britain's reply to the note from the United States with reference to mandates was under consideration today. The state department's note, the United Press was authoritatively informed, points out that since the United States assisted in the defeat of Germany she is entitled to a voice in the disposal of German territories.

The note also claims a voice in the disposal of former Turkish domains, it was said, and points out that the Turkish defeat was accomplished through that of Germany. The confidence of the American government that mandates can be arranged "if certain suggestions are given due consideration" is expressed. These suggestions were said to concern the rights of the United States citizens in places such as Mesopotamia and Palestine.

HEAVY TAX IS PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Legalization of 2.75 per cent beer and the imposition of a heavy tax upon it would aid congress in solving the tax revision problem, Senator Caldwell, New York, said today. Caldwell proposed a levy of $5 a barrel on 2.75 per cent beer and increase from $2.20 to $6.40 a gallon on spirituous liquors. He will place his proposal before the senate finance committee with figures to show that $175,000,000 annually can be derived from these two sources.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon appeared before the committee in executive session and presented figures showing how the various proposed tax plans would work.

LIQUORS BEING DESTROYED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—A huge hoard of fancy wines, whiskey, champagne and other valuable liquors seized from smugglers by federal agents is now being destroyed, Chief Ashworth of the customs service said today. The government has failed in attempts to sell it. Before the government will sell this liquor a permit is necessary.

"There seems to be little market for imported liquor now," said Ashworth. "We tried to sell it but failed, although we offered some of the liquor for less than $5 a case."

HIS ONLY HOPE

"Madam," said the poor but ambitious fiddler, "please don't interrupt me in the midst of my labors to dun me for my board. You don't seem to realize that music is food and drink to me."

"Well, all I've got to say," replied the landlady, as she turned away, "is just this, young man: If you don't pay up, them tunes you play is all the food and drink you'll get in this house."

AGED WOMAN WILL PUT NEEDLEWORK IN VALLEY FAIR

Mrs. Ellen Andrews, 75, Will Make Display; She Is Booster for Glendale

That age does not deter enthusiasm was clearly proven this morning when Miss Eva Daniels, chairman of the Glendale needlework committee of the San Fernando Valley fair, received a call from Mrs. Ellen Andrews of 507 West Vine street, "a young lady of 75." Mrs. Andrews, who was leaning on the strong arm of her son and using a cane for further support, asked if she could enter some of her needlework in the coming fair.

On further interrogation she said that she came to Glendale from the middle west a year ago and purchased a home a short time later, where she now declares herself "happily located and contented." She said that she had just completed knitting some mittens and baby's "booties" with artistic designs, to be sent to several of her grandchildren in the east. Upon reading in the columns of The Glendale Evening News that the fair will exhibit needlework she decided to enter her work with Miss Daniels.

Novelty in Southland

Mrs. Andrews said that she knew that the mittens would be a novelty in Southern California, but that the children who see the exhibition will be able to appreciate "the wonderful climate in which they live."

And to further show that she is a hearty booster for the coming fair Mrs. Andrews signified her intention of visiting the show in person.

Each evening of the fair from September 19 to 24 the sky will be lit with a trail of fire. The city trustees of San Fernando at their meeting last week voted to furnish one of the spectacular features for the San Fernando Valley Fair in the shape of an airplane that would make two thirty-minute flights daily. Samuel Long of the Long aviation field and his pilot, Captain Otto Enderton, late of the U. S. army, have been engaged to make the flights. The afternoon flight will be divided into fifteen minutes of wing walking and acrobatic stunts by Mr. Long and fifteen minutes of fancy flying.

Fireworks From Aircraft

For the evening flight, Mr. Long will equip his machine with apparatus for the discharge of a fireworks display and he will circle above the fair grounds and in plain view of the thousands attending the society $1,000 a night horse show, he will light the sky with a wonderful variety of fireworks.

"Owywa," a standard bred McKinney mare, "Highland Dreamgold," a five gaited saddle stallion, and the pure bred Shetland pony that is to be given away free at the children's matinee have arrived from the White Triangle ranch from San Luis Obispo.

Assurances have been received from Colonel McClune and Colonel Shelley, the government remount station at Sacramento, that he will bring a carload of famous army horses to the $1,000 a night horse show.

With them will come Colonel Joyce with his celebrated horse "Bug," Colonel Agnew with "Monterey," and Lieutenant Burgess with "Pretty Boy."

Famous Horses Coming

An entry has also been received from Mrs. W. Kelsey Anderson who will bring her Canadian Hackneys and also her five famous riding horses.

W. S. Tevis, Jr., a guest of Judge George Gordon Moore of New York, has wired Hamilton Bassett that he will endeavor to arrive on the coast in time to show five polo ponies and some stock horses.

Mrs. Charlotte Anderson from Charmeran stock farms at Pleasanton will show her imported five-gaited stallion "The Nobleman," who is by Bourbon King out of Jane Madison who is by Rex Pevine.

These are a few of the 200 famous horses that will be seen at the society night horse shows to be held in the arena at San Fernando, September 19 to 24.

WORKERS TO ACCEPT CUT

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Acceptance by the building trades workers of the cut in wages decreed by Judge K. M. Landis, arbiter in the dispute with their employees, was forecast today. Representatives of the workers will meet Friday to vote on the new wage schedule.

CONSCIENCELESS DIGGERS

A dead man in Burma always pays his fare across the mystic river of death with a small coin which he carries in his mouth. The curse that rests on grave diggers as a class probably comes from the fact that most of the men of this trade have no scruples about digging the poor wretches up for their coins. It is believed that this causes the spirits of the disturbed ones to return to this world to suffer all the ills that the Burman imagination can conjure up for them.

Women of the Isle of Man believe the eating of carrots is a specific for jealousy and bad temper.

STEAL AMERICA'S STYLES

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Paris is stealing America's ideas on styles, designers of women's wear here declared today. The dearest child of the American fashion art's league—the skirt measuring ten inches from the ground—has been adopted by the Parisians and claimed as their own, members of the league declared. Representatives of the league's three thousand members will meet here next week to decide on new styles and modes for the coming season. Mme. Ala Ripley, president of the league, told the United Press today the ankle length effect in gowns will have adherents among the willowy, graceful women, but the "canny ones will strike a happy medium and follow the most graceful outline."

There is a tendency to the princess effect, not closely fitting, but following lines of the figure, she continued. Sashes will not be so smart on street dresses.

PICKS WRONG CUSTOMER

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 9.—Albert Kingsbell of Auburn didn't use any judgment in soliciting for the sale of "jackass brandy." He offered to sell United States Commissioner Wallace Shepherd a bottle of the illicit liquor. He was haled immediately before the United States district court here and fined $500.

AMERICAN FARMERS NEED MARKETING ORGANIZATION

Co-operative Plan Necessary, Is Belief Expressed by Minnesota Official

By FRAZER EDWARDS

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—A marketing organization, absolutely free from politics, is the greatest need of the American farmer, Representative Anderson, Minnesota, chairman of the joint congressional commission of agricultural inquiry, declared today.

A co-operative marketing organization would increase quality, quantity and prices of farm products, he said in characterizing as "bunk" attempts to get these results by political action.

"Too many organizations are built along the lines of political action, and instead of endeavoring to work out their own problems, occupy their time largely in passing resolutions and making recommendations to congress," Anderson said.

Passing Buck, Claim

"The're past masters of passing the buck. Frankly, congress is passing that sort of buck back to them."

Anderson was equally frank concerning organizations which attempt to bring about an agricultural millenium by legislation. That type of organization, he said, ends in an inevitable smashup.

Three outstanding benefits that would result from a marketing organization, cited by Anderson, are:

1—The cost of grading products to make them marketable would be eliminated.

2—Additional influence over the price of his commodity would enable the farmer to compare with the great buying power of organized industry.

3—Better distribution, enabling the farmer to deliver his product at the time and at the place and when and where it is needed.

AWAITS BEARS' ARRIVAL

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., Sept. 9.—Secretary of the Interior A. B. Fall at daybreak today was crouched among the garbage cans near Old Faithful Inn, waiting the arrival of the park's tame bears. Wild game is the center of Secretary Fall's interest on his tour of inspection. Today he may go by truck train into the wilderness section of the park. Director Mather arrives here today and the party plans to leave for the Jackson Hole country.

Conquer Africa by Airplane Is Scheme

ROME—Just as the railway proved the great advance guard of civilization for the entire western portion of the United States, so must the airplane become the great advance guard for the civilization of Africa.

Convinced of the truth of this, the Italian ministry of colonies as well as those of the war and navy, are making an ever-increasing use of aviation in the development of Italy's African colonies. The same is being done equally by France and Spain in the development of Morocco, Tunnis and other African possessions.

Italy's dark continent colonies include Tripoli and Cyrenacia in the northern part with a Mediterranean coast line and Italian Somalialand and Erytrea on the eastern coast.

In the opinion of Italian colonial experts, decades must elapse before Africa can be opened up to any extensive railway development. Deserts, hostile tribes and other native obstacles stand in the way of any quick advance of the railway.

On the other hand, Italy is convinced that a great deal of the handicap entailed in the use of caravans, waterways and other existing means of communications can be greatly offset by airplane service.

One of the newest colonial airplanes to be established by Italy is between Tripoli and Homs. To the residents of the latter place, a week's time is saved in communications with both Italy and Tripoli. The distance of 100 kilometers between the two cities is covered in anywhere from half an hour to three hours, according to the weather, and the return trips are made after a stop of three hours.

An extensive use of the airplane is also being made in Erythrea, where the Duke of the Abbruzzi is now developing the colony from an agricultural and other standpoint.

FEDERAL AID TO JOBLESS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Establishment of federal agencies to direct all federal work in finding employment for the 5,750,000 men now estimated to be jobless is expected to result from President Harding's conference on unemployment. Secretary of Commerce Hoover is prepared to make such a recommendation to the conference, it was learned today. Final preparations now are being made for the conference which probably will open about September 20. Announcement by President Harding of the delegates to the meeting is expected within a few days.

ORPHAN DOLLS HELP CAMPAIGN BEHALF OF YOUNG FOLK

Catholic Charities Bureau Is Doing Good Work to Aid Helpless Children

In connection with the big child welfare campaign to be held under the auspices of the Bureau of Catholic charities, September 1 to 12, there will be an orphan doll sale staged throughout the ctiy and country under the direction of a committee of women of which Mrs. Dennis P. Kearney is chairman.

For many weeks there have been hundreds of volunteer workers making and dressing these cuddly, attractive dolls in readiness for their introduction to the general public.

Hundreds of young women have volunteered as saleswomen and are assigned to prominent "stands" throughout the city and county where the generous hearted men and women will be given an opportunity to help share child welfare by the purchase of one or more of these quaint dolls.

Picture Stars Give Aid

Famous motion picture stars have also proffered their service to aid the great cause which means health and happiness and protection to thousands of dependent children, and they will sell a generous quota of the dolls at the various stations over which they will preside.

Thomas Meighan is among those who will lend a helping hand in behalf of the children whom the campaign is designed to aid, and it is announced that he will auction off one of the fairest of the fair dolls.

Cafes have also enlisted to aid in the sale of the dolls and prominent cinema stars will lend their services to the cause.

Mrs. J. Kauffmann, president of the Council of Jewish Women, has volunteered for service as have many other members of that club organization long established for its philanthropies.

WAR BETWEEN GANGSTERS

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—War has broken out here between Manhattan and Brooklyn gangsters. Invading Manhattan during the night, Brooklyn gangsters in an automobile engaged in a revolver duel with a number of their rivals near Fifty-eighth street and Ninth avenue. Police joined in the shooting. Paul Michilid, 50, a spectator of the encounter, was shot in the arm. Five men were arrested.

A dispute over bootleg profits and the murder of "Googoo" Knox last week are believed by police to have started the gang feud. Hostilities started Tuesday night when shots were fired on a street corner in the Tenderloin. One of the gang doing the shooting was said to have been a woman. Witnesses of the gang battle which started late last night said a woman was in the automobile from which the shots were fired at men on the sidewalk.

PREPARE FOR CONFERENCE

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Preparations for a conference with Irish plenipotentiaries were under way at Iverness today. A cabinet committee of ten was ready to receive the Sinn Fein delegation if it accepted the British proposal for further conferences, contained in the note of yesterday. It was believed here and by ministers at Iverness that Sinn Fein would accept.

The cabinet's reply sets a date for the further conversations on the Irish situation asked for by De Valera, probably September 20, and insists upon the promise that Ireland must remain within the empire. To this, De Valera has never disagreed and it was felt here today that the proposed conference, if Ireland accepts and sends plenipotentiaries, may lead to peace.

BEING TOWED INTO PORT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—The waterlogged steamer Canadian Importer, which has been helpless at sea since August 16 is being towed to Victoria, B. C., by the Sea Lion, according to a radiogram received from the tug today. The position of the Importer last night was given as 400 miles off Eureka, indicating that about 200 miles progress had been made. The message said that the crew of the Importer had been put aboard the steamer Canadian Winner and was being taken into Vancouver.

CHALK AS COAL SUBSTITUTE

By treating chalk with a patented process by which it is blended with a rich carbonaceous material a British company claims a fuel can be produced as efficient as coal for household use, at a price of $3.75 a ton. People Want to Know What They Eat, Now

CHICAGO—Americans are off of food with fancy trick names.

"We don't put much French on our menus now," Charles Spieler, maitre d'hotel of the Congress hotel, told the United Press today.

"It used to be that people would point to the French names on the menu, with: "Give me some of that."

"Now they want to know what they are eating. If 'eoufs a la Susette' means 'eggs with baked potato,' they don't want to order eggs and potatoes besides." Spieler admitted that bread pudding and some other such foods are still camouflaged.

"We still keep a little French on our bills of fare. It adds class, piquancy—like spice in a salad," he said. But all French menus"—the maitre d'hotel waved them away. "Never again."

Spieler thought the anxiety to "eat American food first" was due to the war. "Everything foreign went overboard then," he said.

COTTON RISE WILL ASSIST TRADE, IS GENERAL BELIEF

Number of Industries Will Receive Great Benefit, Is Opinion Expressed

By HAROLD D. JACOBS
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The present spectacular rise in cotton prices is generally regarded throughout the cotton and allied industries as the breaking of the key log in the prosperity jam. A canvass of the bigger cotton brokerage offices here today revealed that while there have been some marked indications of a return to normal economic conditions in other lines, shaking off of the inertia in cotton is having a nation-wide stimulating effect. The concensus ran something like this:

"The marking up of raw cotton prices to something like their real value has created confidence among the bankers and merchants who have been "carrying' the growers, textile manufacturers, fabricators of cotton goods and the employees of all these.

Sudden Realization

While raw cotton remained at an abnormally low figure, buyers perversely expected it to go even lower. There was a general stagnation in all trades using cotton, the ramifications of which are almost endless. Then there came the sudden realization that we have a real cotton famine. (This was forecast by Theodore Price in an exclusive interview with the United Press several weeks ago).

The rush of buying sent cotton up nearly 100 per cent. Now textile mills are reopening. Automobile tire manufacturers and other users of cotton have begun to place orders. Mill machinery makers are starting up again. Hundreds of thousands of persons affected directly or indirectly by cotton are preparing to go back to work. Banks and merchants who loaned money or goods to the growers are being paid back.

Expert Seeking Secrets of Mellow Old Violins

NORWALK, O. — Musicians for years have wondered why many old Italian violins, apparently made in a slip-shod manner, should produce such clear sounds.

N. C. Holcomb, musical instrument maker, believes he is making rapid advances in his efforts to discover the secret of the fine, mellow tones of the Cremona violins.

Holcomb believes that the lost secret had to do mainly with the filler and varnish. He was informed that a careful chemical analysis had been made of some of the finish on a famous old violin owned in Battle Creek, Mich.

This examination disclosed the fact that before the varnish was applied, the wood was filled, evidently with the yolk of an egg and beeswax.

Profiting by this information, Holcomb rubbed these substances into the raw wood of a new violin before applying the varnish. The results achieved were surprising, the instrument producing a tone that is usually associated with age.

Holcomb, by using the tops of old tables and other furniture, obtains maple wood 100 years or more old.

Holcomb says that he has found out that if varnish is applied to a violin before the proper filler has been used, the varnish penetrates the cells of the wood and injures the tone.

W. S. HART STAR OF 'THE WHISTLE' AT PALACE GRAND

'Miracles of Jungle' Also Are on Big Bill Playing This Week-end

William S. Hart achieved another triumph in his latest Paramount picture, "The Whistle," which was shown before a large and admiring audience at the Palace Grand theatre yesterday. It is a story of factory life in New England and Mr. Hart, instead of being a good-bad man of the desert, is a foreman. A tragedy enters his life and changes the current of his existence. Although he approaches the border line of criminality, the real man within him finally asserts his supremacy. Myrtle Steadman is leading woman and acquits herself with rare artistry. The cast generally is excellent with three juveniles who deserve a deal of praise. They are Georgie Stone, Richard Headrick and Will Jim Hatton. Little boys and girls are the best actors in Mr. Hart's opinion because they are just themselves.

"The Jungle Attack," two more reels of the "Miracles of the Jungle," give a person all of the thrills needed in a week while "Money Talks" is a breezy comedy full of laughs. The Paramount Magazine concludes the big bill for the week-end.

New Law to Control All Mental Criminals

Boston—The culpability of criminals brought before the Massachusetts courts repeatedly for the same or similar offenses henceforth will rest on the offender's mental status. This will be determined by psychiatric examinations in accordance with a new law.

That the mental tests are not a variation of the similar army or Binet formulas is explained by Dr. George MacPherson, assistant commissioner of the state department of mental diseases.

Such examinations readily reveal the subject's emotional or temperamental reaction, but, according to Dr. MacPherson, it is necessary when dealing with those of criminal tendencies to know what actual mental defects they may have, other than a mind that has merely failed to keep pace with the person's age.

In the methods to be employed by the state's psychologists a great deal more enters into the case. The subject's physical condition, heredity, his life during childhood and the succeeding stages of his life, to determine whether he has a mentality for which he really is not responsible, are the main factors used in reaching a conclusion.

If the patient is found to be in such a state, Dr. MacPherson said, then he will be placed in an institution where he will receive all possible care, but will be able to harm neither himself nor those with whom he comes in contact.

REFUSE OIL AGREEMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—California oil operators, rejecting the proposal of the Oil Workers' union to submit the question of wages renewals to the president's mediation board, today declared that they would decline to make new agreements with field and plant employes. The announcement was made by the operators' committee, representing practically all oil producers and operating plants in the state with the exception of the Standard Oil company.

Independent of other operators the Standard Oil company will on October 1 initiate 10 per cent wage reductions, it was announced. The operators' committee last week inaugurated a decrease of a dollar a day in all classes of labor.

LIBERAL PUBLICITY IS NOW FAVORED AT CONFERENCE

Newspaper Interests Declare Disarmament Meetings Be Open to Journalists

By CLYDE A. BEALS
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The most liberal publicity, but not full of verbatim reports, is the recommendation made for the forthcoming Washington conference by Lord Riddell, vice president of the Newspaper Proprietors' Association of Great Britain and one of the best known English journalists, in an interview with the United Press.

Lord Riddell was the British official press agent at the Paris peace conference and since then he has given out to both British and American correspondents, whose confidence he enjoys, the news of virtually every international conference in which England has been engaged.

The most beneficial way in which the news of the disarmament conference could be made public, Lord Riddell believes, is through three channels:

Three Propositions

First, there should be an official communique covering the bare details of each sitting;

Second, the delegates of each nation at the conference should communicate a verbal summary of the proceedings to an accredited representative of the press of that country, who, in his turn, would communicate such information to the correspondents;

Third, when circumstances permit, there should be either a verbatim report of the proceedings or a full official resume.

"I am strongly in favor of publicity," Lord Riddell told the United Press. "But I have been a business man, and know how business agreements are arrived at. I know that they are not arrived at by long speeches, but by brief questions and answers made in a free and friendly atmosphere.

"The negotiations may find they do not agree, and perhaps one will say, 'My people are anxious to get this thing settled.' And the other will say, 'So are mine. I wonder if we can't find some way out.' 'Well,' the first will say, 'suppose we try this way.' The other may suggest something else. That is the method of finding a common ground.

"If each one knows, on the other hand, that every move and every chance word is being reported, he will be shackled and prevented from doing his best. It is by informal talks that you arrive at agreement.

Delegates Are Human

"One must guard against these meetings developing into debating societies. It must be remembered that after all the delegates are human and that international questions are settled very much like business questions. They will go out for historical spell-binders. You don't settle difficult questions by spell-binding speeches.

"Full reports are a further hindrance in that they make each delegate stand on his dignity and not appear to be yielding. A verbatim report does not always represent the atmosphere of the discussions.

"I think it will be found that owing to the many ramifications of newsgathering, if each delegation gives a report to its press representatives, the news will circulate till each correspondent will get a comprehensive report that will really give the atmosphere of the meetings.

PURSUED BY GIRL'S FATHER

"I suppose you marry a lot of eloping couples, squire. Quite a source of income, eh?"

"Yes; I git five dollars for marryin' each couple an' they come in such dollars more for speedin'."

SO, THERE!

One day little Mary had been very naughty and her mother said to her: "Mary, you must go upstairs and pray for forgiveness of your sins."

When the little girl came down after some time, her mother asked, "Did you tell God about it?"

"No," replied the child, "but I told Mrs. God, and I guess it's all over heaven by this time."

ELIHU ROOT TO ACCEPT

GENEVA, Sept. 9.—Elihu Root will accept the presidency of the international court of justice, members of the League of Nations were privately informed today. His election is practically assured. The probable composition of the world court will be a representative of the United States, England, France, Italy, Japan, Russia, Germany, Holland, Sweden or Norway or Denmark, Chile and Brazil.

HUMBOLDT COUNTY WINS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 9.—Humboldt Co. was awarded thirty-three first places out of a possible thirty-five firsts in the apple exhibits at the state fair here today. Mendocino county was first in the plate exhibit of apples with Alameda county second. Humboldt county this year concentrated its exhibit on apples.

'THE TIGER' HEARD AGAIN

PARIS, Sept. 9.—"The Tiger" has roared in the French political jungle and many politicians hereabouts are trembling at the prospect of his reappearance. Many pretend to see in the brief political speech in which George Clemenceau on Saturday defended his policies at the time of the Versailles treaty portents of the "old master's" return to active political life. The announcement that the "grand old man" of France would edit a new magazine, collaborating with Tardieu, Mandel and Ignace, the colored deputy, received a mixed reception in the French press. Rumors of Clemenceau's reappearance came at an inopportune moment for the Briand government, of which Paul Doumer, the finance minister, is under fire from all sides. The press has been clamoring for Doumer's resignation.

A doctor says we should sleep for eight hours on end. We have tried, but we simply couldn't. We were obliged to lie down.

LET THIS BE A WARNING

OAKLAND, Sept. 9.—If the chorus comes dancing down the main aisle and you are in the aisle seat, and the prettiest dancer of all smiles at you and then turns away—don't put your icy hands on her back. Edward Newhard, aged nineteen, admitted in the justice court here that he tried it on Nell Harding, Century theatre beauty. In return he got his face slapped and a sixty-day suspended sentence. The court called it "boisterous conduct." Miss Harding called it "pretty fresh," and Newhard called it "worth while."

TEST POLL TAX LAW

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—Decision on the test cases attacking the constitutionality of the California poll tax law may not be expected for two weeks or more, according to counsel today. The cases, argued under habeas corpus proceedings to obtain the release of two aliens, were taken under advisement by the state supreme court yesterday afternoon. Attorney Albert Eliot on behalf of Heikichi Terui, a Japanese of Oakland, and Guillermo Koots, a Mexican of San Francisco, argued that the poll tax is a direct violation of both the Japanese-American treaty and the fourteenth amendment to the federal constitution.

ORDINANCE NO. 476

AN ORDINANCE APPROVING THE ANNEXATION TO THE CITY OF GLENDALE OF CERTAIN TERRITORY KNOWN AS "SIERRA AVENUE DISTRICT."

WHEREAS, Heretofore a petition was presented to the Council of the City of Glendale asking that certain new territory contiguous to said City of Glendale, and situated in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, be annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of said City of Glendale, which territory is hereinafter more particularly described; and

WHEREAS, Said Council found and determined that said petition was signed by not less than one-fourth in number of the qualified electors residing in said territory as shown by the Registration of voters of said County of Los Angeles; and

Shoes for School

KEWPIE TWINS

If you have a school-going family, you will appreciate a good place to buy dependable shoes that are made right, of the right materials.

Children's feet are tender, and the bones are easily moulded with the shoes they wear, which is the reason we insist upon nature shape shoes. They cannot do their best school work unless their feet are comfortable, and when we fit the feet of little children you may rest assured there is plenty of room for proper foot action.

And withal, our shoes are moderately priced.

TRAVEL BOOKS AND REFERENCE DATE JUST RELEASED

Valuable Additions Are Made to Branch Library; New Volumes of Fiction

By CHARLES H. CUSHING
In Charge of Branch Library

The branch of the Glendale public library has just made some valuable additions to its reference books and books of travel and biography as well as some of the late popular fiction.

"The New International Year Book for 1920" is a very complete resume of the world's progress for the last year. It supplements the New International Encyclopaedia.

"Who's Who," an annual biographical dictionary is the English publication corresponding to "Who's Who in America." These two works make a complete reference set for all living celebrities.

Lytton Strachey's "Queen Victoria" is the intimate story of the queen's life in her domestic relations as well as official capacity, told in a delightful way to interest everyone. It also has chapters on Gladstone, Lord Melbourne, Lord Palmerston, Disraeli and the Prince Consort.

The following volumes by George Wharton James will be found full of interest: "New Mexico, the Land of the Delight-Makers," contains much of the archaeology, social life and customs of the Indians, geology, resources and cities of the state.

"Arizona, the Wonderland" treats of that state very much in the same manner and both books are full of very beautiful illustrations.

About Indian Baskets

"Indian Basketry" is in two parts, the first dealing with basketry in legend, ceremonial and symbolism, decadence of the art, how it may be preserved, hints to the collectors, etc.

The second part gives detailed instructions for the making of Indian and other baskets.

"The Grand Canyon of Arizona, How to See It," is a complete guide book invaluable for those intending to visit this wonderland. It is a revised edition and contains descriptions of Hermit Rim Road and Hermit Trail. It contains many excellent illustrations.

"Her Father's Daughter," the last book by Gene Stratton-Porter, the story of a very wide-awake Los Angeles girl, will have an added interest on account of the local setting.

Other new books of fiction are: "Prairie Mother," by Stringer; "Potterism," by Macaulay; "In Chancery," by Galsworthy; "My South Sea Sweetheart," by Grimshaw; "Tales From a Roll-Top Desk," by Morley; "Oh, You Tex," by Raine; "Half Portions," by Ferber; "Best Short Stories of 1919," by O'Brien (ed); "Blind," by Pool; "Stepsons of Light," by Rhodes; "The Third Window," Sedgwick; "Wilderness Mine," by Bindloss.

Juvenile Literature

There is a new wireless book for the boys, the one copy already in the library being entirely inadequate to supply the demand.

"The Keepers of the Trail," and "The Eyes of the Woods," by Altsheler complete the "Young Trailer Series."

"The Boy Scouts of the Air Series" has proved so popular with the young people that the few volumes of it already in the library have been completely worn out, and a whole new set of eleven volumes has been secured.

The growth of southern Glendale is reflected in the library activities. Last month over 3000 books and magazines were circulated, over one thousand persons made use of the reading rooms on week days and sixty-four on Sundays, while many new borrowers were registeded.

ORDINANCE NO. 473

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE EXERCISE BY THE COUNCIL OF POWERS HERETOFORE CONFERRED UPON THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Glendale:

Section 1. Wherever by any ordinance of the City of Glendale now in effect power is conferred upon the Board of Trustees of said City to grant or deny or to revoke any permit or license or to do any other official act, the same power shall be and is hereby conferred upon the Council of the City of Glendale and the term "Council" shall be substituted for the term "Board of Trustees" in each of said Ordinances. Section 2. The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of this ordinance and shall cause the same to be published once in the Glendale Sentinel-Progress, a weekly newspaper of general circulation published in the City of Glendale. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force upon its passage.

HONOR LAFAYETTE DAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—A message from Marshal Joffre was read the Lafayette Day celebration. "The name of Lafayette awakens the same emotion in all Americans and all Frenchmen; it recalls to each the remembrance of the friendly nations and of their common ideal of liberty," Joffre wrote. "May the memory of the great Frenchman remain forever honored on both shores of the Atlantic and may it remind each generation of the blood shed in common on the battle fields of freedom."

ENTERS NOT GUILTY PLEA

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—William Hightower pleaded not guilty to the murder of the Rev. Father Heslin, Colma priest, when he was arraigned in the superior court here. His trial was set for October 3. The arraignment was quickly over. Hightower was brought into court accompanied by William Herron, his attorney. He had nothing to say beyond his simple plea of "not guilty." The court room was filled when the arraignment took place. The audience included many women. Hightower's defense will be in charge of Attorneys William Herron of San Francisco and E. J. Emmons of Bakersfield, the latter as chief counsel. They declared they were ready to proceed with the trial at an early date and October 3 accordingly was set.

LEGION'S OFFICIALS TALK OVER PLANS FOR BIG SHOW

Date and Place Are Not Yet Chosen; Meeting Tonight Most Important One

The executive committee of the Glendale Post of the American Legion met Wednesday night of this week at the office of J. F. McBryde of 103-A North Brand boulevard at a special meeting called for the purpose of making plans for the staging of a big entertainment in the near future.

Those present at the gathering were Post-Commander Emil Kiefer, Chaplain J. F. McBryde, Joe Wilson, W. B. Kelly, Gordon Clayton, Dr. H. V. Brown and K. A. Louis, who is planning on putting on the show.

Mr. Louis, who is a member of the local legion post, is declared to be an accomplished musician and is experienced in promoting similar benefit entertainments. At a recent All-Hawaiian concert conducted by Mr. Louis at Long Beach the 3000 seating-capacity auditorium in which the show was staged was filled to overflowing on two consecutive nights.

Date and Place Not Chosen

No definite action regarding the date and place of the affair was taken at the committee meeting, although it was decided that the Legion will back the move and that announcements will be made in the near future.

Commander Kiefer has announced that the regular meeting of the post tonight will be an important one and all members and ex-service men are urged to be present. It is probable that the new memorial tablet, which is being arranged by the officers of the post, will be dedicated this week.

St. Mark's Guild In Session Talks Plans for Coming Season

St. Mark's Guild met at the Guild hall Thursday at noon for a luncheon and business meeting. The hall had been renovated during the summer and was found to be a much more attractive place to hold the meetings and social affairs of the church.

During the luncheon Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, chairman of the culinary department of the San Fernando Valley fair, spoke informally to the women, urging them to send in cakes and pastries to the contests. The Guild is planning to send a beautiful needlework display to the fair, which will include several very handsome pieces of drawn-work.

Following the luncheon the meeting was called to order by Mrs. B. O. Holbrook, the president, and plans for the coming fall and winter seasons were discussed at length. An unofficial announcement was made to the effect that the mortgage on the church property had been paid off during the summer, leaving St. Mark's parish entirely out of debt. This is a great satisfaction to the Guild as they have been working for some years to this end.

Commercial aviation has become so important in France that there is published a monthly time table of air services operating in France and allied countries, giving such information as the time of departure and arrival, type of plane employed, routes, weight of luggage allowed, rates, and so on.

A. Burnett Purchases Auto Service Station

A. Burnett of Santa Barbara has purchased the Security Motor Service station at the corner of Louise street and Broadway from Gus Pulliam who established the business there this spring. As soon as the papers were signed in Attorney Owen C. Emery's office yesterday afternoon, the latter took Mr. Burnett's application for membership in the Chamber of Commerce as he intends bringing his family here to reside. Other directors of the chamber beside Mr. Emery should make a similar report soon, says Secretary James M. Rhoades.

The liaison-runner who penetrated the German lines in the forest of Argonne, carrying the message that saved the "lost battalion," recently died of tuberculosis in New York city, alone and in great poverty. With the exception of his Distinguished Service cross, Croix de Guerre and Medaille Militaire, he had pawned and sold everything he owned.

PRISONERS MAKE ESCAPE

ABERDEEN, Wash., Sept. 9.—Instead of trying James Carroll and James Castigan on habitual criminal charges here, local authorities are endeavoring to locate the men, who escaped from the county jail. They made their escape by breaking two iron bars in their cell and lowering themselves to the ground with a blanket rope. Both Carroll and Castigan had spent several prison terms in California, Oregon and Washington.

SEA FIGHTERS IN DRILLS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Admiral E. W. Eberle, commander of the Pacific fleet began today whipping his command into shape. Somewhere off the coast of southern California the fleet began drilling and maneuvering which is expected to reveal the needs and possible surpluses of that section of the American navy. The drills will last until November 11 when the sea fighters will be ready for joint maneuvers with the Atlantic fleet late this fall.

FOSSIL LEAF DISCOVERED

BERKELEY—Fossil leaves, contemporaneous with the three-toed horse, were unearthed in Oregon and southern Idaho, according to R. J. Russell, instructor of the University of California and member of an expedition conducted by the Carnegie institute this summer. A study of the fossil leaves was made in order to verify certain points in the supposed history of the region, and according to Russell, bore out many theories of science regarding the paleo-botannical history of the region.

Prohibition Officer's 'Mind Not Made Up'

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—After two years in charge of Volstead act violations and enforcement as assistant United States attorney general, Mrs. Annette Adams was back in San Francisco today, frankly unprepared to say whether prohibition enforcement is good or bad, but with ideas on the subject.

"I am not prepared to say whether or not the Volstead act is a good thing or a bad thing," she told members of the Commonwealth club.

"But I do believe that if a man loves the Constitution of the United States he must take the Eighteenth amendment with the rest of it. Draw your own conclusions from what I have told you."

Mrs. Adams declared that the public has refused to co-operate in prohibition enforcement.

"It is the state of mind all over the nation that has broken down the moral fibre of our people," she declared, after describing the difficulties of prohibition enforcement.

"As a whole the bench and bar fail to assist in the prosecution of those men and women who openly violate the prohibition act.

Search for Slayer of Trio Police Officers

HIBBING, Minn., Sept. 9.—Posses made up of hundreds of armed residents of Hibbing and vicinity today scoured the surrounding country for John Webb who shot and killed three police officers.

Webb escaped after killing Chief of Police Daniel Hays, Chief of Detectives Gene Cassidy and Traffic Officer William Kohert. The officers attempted to arrest Webb at Nelson, Minn., near here, on a statutory charge.

The police officers were killed as they entered Webb's house. Webb fired from behind a pile of furniture where he barricaded himself.

The charges against Webb were made by his 18-year-old son, on statements made by a sister, 13 years old, regarding her father's alleged misconduct.

More than 1,000 men joined in the search. They were instructed to shoot to kill.

Webb is a widower with six children. He was said to have acted strangely lately and last night terrorized his family. The children spent the night in the woods.

BETTER SUPPLY OF WATER TO GUARD SCHOOL SOUGHT

carried to the effect that the secretary write a letter to the city manager, again calling his attention to the serious condition of affairs as regards water supply for fire protection at the Cerritos avenue school, and that if no satisfactory answer has been received by the time of the next meeting of the club that the members go in a body before the City Council and place their request before it directly.

During the discussion in regards to the school situation the matter of the Magnolia avenue school was brought up. Mrs. Blair called attention to the fact that there was a large room at the Magnolia avenue school which had not been used all during last year, and that pupils from that school district were forced to go to the Cerritos avenue school, which was already congested, and still more overcrowd the capacity of that building.

School Bond Issue

She also read an account of the $260,000 school bond election which is to be called early in October and stated that no mention was made of the Cerritos avenue school.

A committee consisting of W. E. Anderson, F. Archer and C. L. Brenkman was appointed to interview the members of the school board and see if it would not be possible to have part of this $260,000 or else increase this amount for the purpose of securing an appropriation for the improvement of this school building or the building of new units.

G. E. Shram and C. L. Brenkman, officers of the recently-organized improvement association which has now merged with the Gateway club, were appointed vice-presidents of the new Southern Glendale Improvement club.

James W. Whittaker Being Held In Jail

James W. Whittaker, who has been doing plumbing in Glendale recently, was arraigned in Justice of the Peace Harry M. Miller's court yesterday on a charge of grand larceny preferred by H. M. MacDonald. Whittaker will be given a preliminary hearing September 14 at 10 o'clock and in default of bail he is in the county jail.

According to MacDonald's story, Whittaker has been operating a plumbing business in which he is alleged to have substituted inferior fixtures for more expensive ones purchased by home builders here. His license has been revoked by the City Council and little could be learned about him.

WOULDN'T RUN; STRANGE

According to Robert Rowley of 334 West Vine street all "flivver" owners will soon have to take their charges with them wherever they go, in order to be sure of a ride home. Mr. Rowley motored to Los Angeles in his Ford Wednesday night where he parked it in front of a theatre. Upon returning to the machine after the performance he found that no gasoline was reaching the motor. No filling station being near, he set forth in search of the precious, powerful liquid. After walking several blocks he returned to the innocent "fliv" and filled the gas tank. Still no response from the cylinders. Upon investigation it was found that the carburetor had been stolen from the car.

EUREKA—Women, according to the divorce records here, find matrimony more disagreeable than men. Of fifty-two divorce cases filed here this year only a dozen were entered by men. The same proposition, it is said, prevails through California, and is partly explained by the fact that when divorce is contemplated the husband, regardless of circumstances, generally allows the wife to institute proceedings.
